

Archaeologist for a Day

The artefacts shown in the diagram below are from an archaeological site that was used by different groups of people who lived in Atlantic Canada long ago. You are the head archaeologist on this site. Your research shows that the three groups who lived in this area were Mi'kmaq, Acadians, and British. Write notes about your findings.

